Why should you hire Butler Consulting?

Unlike many other IT vendors who are locked into certain vendor's products, Butler Consulting can evaluate your current IT project and provide a solution from the hardware / software vendor who has products best suited to the job at hand. In addition, Butler Consulting prefers to build an ongoing relationship with your company and your employees such that we can tailor our service to minimize downtime and increase the productivity of your IT investment.

In addition, Butler Consulting also operates in an "IT Department Add-on" capacity where we can simply assist your current in-house IT department. Our primary goal is to provide straight answers and guaranteed work at better than industry rates. And finally, I personally guarantee all work and ensure your satisfaction.
